2022 Saskatchewan Winter Games Volunteer Newsletter

Winter Games Volunteers enjoyed an afternoon of skating at Iceville!

On Saturday, February 20, the 2022 Saskatchewan Winter Games Host Society hosted a virtual event to celebrate the one-year kick-off to the 2022 Saskatchewan Winter Games.

At the virtual event, the Host Society and guest speakers unveiled the official 50th Anniversary Saskatchewan Games logo, kicked off the Games' community engagement challenge, and officially announced February 20 as "Saskatchewan Games Day".

If you missed the virtual event, catch the replay here.

#UnitedInSport

In celebration on the 50th Anniversary of the Saskatchewan Games, Regina Mayor Sandra Masters kicked off our #UnitedInSport challenge by nominating the 2022 Saskatchewan Winter Games Host Society to participate in a sport or activity in our community.

To participate in the challenge, take a photo or video of yourself or your organization participating in a safe sport or activity in your community, post it to your social media channels using the hashtags #UnitedInSport & #SWG2022 and tag the organization or people who you want to challenge next.

Volunteers don't get paid, not because they're worthless, but because they're priceless.
